A. Monnison & Co, are now receiving their

Fall supplies of Fancy Goods. See advertisement. CARRIAGES.—The different styles of carriages brought to this market may be found at P. P. PECK & Co.'s, Lower Market Street.

New Corrow.-The first bale of the new crop was received to-day at the warehouse of J. A. M'-Austen & Co., from the farm of Dr. J. W. Hoc-GITT, of Rutherford county.

We refer our readers to the advertisement of Mr. FERREIT. He will resume his school in the basement of the African Church on the 1st Monday in September. Mr. F. is a fine scholar, good reacher and will doubtless receive liberal patronage from the public.

We negret to learn that Maj. G. W. MARTIN died in Columbia on yesterday at 10 o'clock. He will be burried to-day, at the same hour at Ashwood, in Maury county.

The deceased was a man of many noble qualities, both of head and heart, and the above announcement will cause a shade of gloom to pass over a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

GT Mr. MARCHEU's professional card will be found in to-day's issue. He has acted in the capacity of Civil Engineer, Surveyor and Draughtsman for several years, and we believe has given general satisfaction to our citizens in each department. We yesterday saw some charts, plats of ground in the lower part of the city, and for beau-17, taste and general execution are unequalled by the best lithographic artists. When this kind of work can be done at home, and that in a style e just to, we cannot see why our citizens should not patronize home industry instead of sending to New York, or Philadelphia, or Cincinnati. Mr. M. deserves patronage, and we hope our citizens will extend it to him

WHOLESALE CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT.-We would wall the attention of our friends generally, and parvicularly the retail merchants of this and the admining States, to the extensive Wholesale Clothing and Furnishing establishment of our enterprising and clever friend, R. H. BROCKWAY, We were not aware of the extent of this establishment aintil within the last day or two. Upon enquiry and examination we are satisfied that this establishment would be able to furnish supplies to the ratail trade of the entire State; and the gentlemanly proprietor assures us that he will duplicate any bill made in any of the Eastern cities, and in some descriptions of clothing he can sell at from five to ten per cent, lower than his Eastern competitors. To give an idea of the extent of this establishment. Mr. Brockway keeps constantly employed in the manufacturing department, from two hundred and fifty to three hundred persons, male sand female. This is an important fact that should not be overlooked by our people.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY .- Five Men Killed and Hangod - We take the following from the Parkville (Mo) Luminary of the 8th:

Just as we are getting ready for the press, the particulars of a most shocking affray and hanging have been parrated to us. The occurrence was at Simithville, Clay county, on Monday afternoon.-"One man, John W. Douglass, was killed; Wm. Ross and Squire John Ross, father and son, were dangersously stabbed-not expected to recover, also Ira Trift, badly stabbed. The perpetrators, Sam. Shackleford, Wm. Shackleford, and John W. Callaway have been hanged by the enraged citizens.

The Shacklefords are said to have been connected with a gang of horse-thieves that were committing depredations in the neighborhood; great inlignation existed, so far as to pass resolutions ordering them to leave the place, which they refused to Prior to this, Douglass had been instrumental in tracing a mule to Sam, Shackleford's, who consequently owed Douglass a grudge, and on Monday last the two met and had an altercation at Smithville, which ended so fatally.

We understand that Douglass shot at Shackle ford, slightly wounding him, and that his brother William stabbed Douglass. The Rosses interfered, but were overpowered by the Shacklefords and Calaway and cut down-they will not probably survive. Sam. Shackleford stabbed the man Tritt. alasway and the Shacklefords subsequently took refuge in neighboring houses. An immense crowd kil citizens speedily collected at the place, surrounding the houses, and about dusk William Shackleford was brought out and forthwith hanged. Shortly afterwards Callaway was hanged beside him, having previously confessed his complicity with the others in horse-stealing. Samuel Shackleford, who had been wounded by a pistol shot, was said to be siangerously hurt; but this not being true, about 11 e) clock at night he too was dragged out and hanged. on this (Tuesday) morning the bodies were cut

The most intense excitement prevails throughout the vicinity. In the mean time we abstain from comments, having simply stated the facts as they

ANOTHER ACCOUNT .- An extra from the Weston

A fatal rencounter took place at Smithland, Clay county, on Monday last, between a band of horsewhieves, headed by one Sam. Shackleford, and seven citizens of Clay, names not known. Shackleford who was still living, having been shot through the neck, was hung together with two of his comrades a few hours after the fracas.

It seems that Wm. Ross accused Shackleford of aving stolen mules in the country, whereupon Shackleford drew a pistol and shot Ross through the head and stomach, of which he soon after died not however until after he had mortally wounded Shackleford. Another gentleman, name not known. attempted to separate the parties, when he was stabbed by one John Callaway, who also died of his wounds. Callaway and John Shackleford then rook refuge in a drug store, dragging Sam. Shackleford after them, who was still living. The citizens surrounded the store and rook the men prisoners.dudge Lynch not being present, they were all hung on the first limb. Callaway confessed that he belonged to the gang, and that he had stole mules, and his brother Bill had ran them off to St. Joseph Callaway was a mere boy, and the two Shacklefords were quite young men. It is reported when the election took place on Monday, these men were still hanging upon a tree in full view of the people.

EXANIMIS.

On Thursday, the 10th inst., at the residence of Dr. John Shelby, in Edgefield, died, Mangarer, wife of Jony Surray Hannow, in the 22d year of her age. Thus early has passed away one, for whom the affections of friends and the gentler realities of life seemed to have recured the impriness of many years. Not a cloud or disappointment had portended the catastrophe, which was so soon to close a career full of the evidences of love recaired and replate with the marks of kindness returned. How inveteriously do Life a d Death seem to walk handin hand along the same paths. But a few months ago, the hand of Time had touched, only to beautify the graceful turns, in which the fountains of being are now dried up torever. Her possession makes the Present joyous no more, and the holy offices of Memory are bugun. As we tearfully and hopelessly write, with every sigh comes the recollection of some virtue flown, some excellence faded except from the hearts where affection had impressed it.

It is a sad but grateful task, which Friendship deplores while it undertakes, to record the virtues which endear the dead to the living. It were impossible adequately to portray the varied traits that combined to render the charactar of the subject of this notice admirable and lovely. So perfectly were they blended and so harmoniously united; &c., apply to that we could not study them without emotions of the tenderest interest. Though not wanting instrong and prominent features, there was a gentleness over her entire charge our which, to the casual observer, almost obscured the point and strength of her nature. This false resemblance to common-place anniability resulted from the evenuess of onlight and evel-purent of many strines, rather than from the first opening and promotion of the tenderest interest. direction of these. In the quiet walks of social life, and especially in ministering about the sanctuary of home, our ost friend sought the gratification of her noble dispositions, and exhibited the highest beauties of her character. Many a heart, that reads these lines, will remember the confiding warmth with which she loved, the guileless sincerity with which she wept, the undoubted truthfulness with which she spoke. As will readily be believed, the possession of these qualities had attracted to her a large circle of friends, who mourn her, dead, with the same intensity, that they loved her, living. In one of her last conversa-tions with her revered pastor, she stated, that she loved will preach at the McKendree Church this morning at half past 10 o'clock. every one, and she knew no one in the world who had cause for the slightest enmity toward her. While this was not said in the spirit of boasting, it displays the inoffensiveness of her disposition, which equal ly shrank from giving offence, and from provoking it in others. She was an numble Christian, exemplifying the beauty of religion by a life occupied with the scrupulous discharge of those ordinary offices, which make up the sum and obligation of human duty. Such uniform piety rendered her useful and exemplary in every relation of life. It sanctified her inrecourse with the domestic circle of family and intimate friends, and commended religion wherever she bore it, as more than a mere form or dream. For the young husband, who mourns the absence of this gentle guardian from his side, there is little consolation born of earth. He will find comfort in the softened light of the past, and the faded joys of the Present will melt into the hopes of the Hereafter, while he meditates upon them. In the hours of his realized desolation, he will will walk lovingly in the tootsteps of her, who has gone before, it may be, only to lead him npward to where love is everlasting and the marriage of hearts endures ever-

THE BABY'S COMPLAINT .-- NOW, I suppose you think, because you never see me do anything but feed and sleep, that I have a very nice time of it, Let me tell you that you are mistaken, and that I'm tormented half to death, though I never say anything about it. How should you like every morning to have your nose washed up instead of down? How should you like to have a pin through your dress into your skin, and bear it all day, until your clothes are taken off at night ?-How should you like to be held so near the fire that your eyes were half scorched out of your head, while your nurse was reading a novel? How should you like to have a fly light on your nose, and not know how to take aim at him with your little fat useless fingers? How should you like to be left alone in the room to take a nap, and have a great passy jump into your cradle, and sit staring at you with her great green eves till you were all in a tremble? How should you like to reach out your hand for the pretty, bright candle, and find out that it was away across the room, instead of close by? How should you like to tire yourself out crawling across the carpet to pick up a pretty butten or pin, and have it snatched away a oon as you begin to enjoy it? I tell you it is enough to destroy any baby's temper. How should you like for your mother to stay at a party till you were as hungry as a little cub and be left to the mercy of a nurse who trotted you up and down till every bone in your body ached? How should you like, when your mamma dressed you all up pretty to take the nice fresh air, to spend the afternoon with your nurse in the smoky kitchen, while she gossipped with one of her eronies? How should you like to submit to have your toes tickled by all the little children who in ist on "seeing the baby's feet?" How should you like to have a dreadful pain, and everybody call you " a cross little thing," when you couldn't speak to tell what was the matter with you? How should you like to crawl to the top of the stairs,

(just to look about a little) and pitch heels over read from the top to the bottom? "O! I can tell you it is no joke to be a baby Such a thinking as we keep! and if we try to find out anything, we are sure to get our brains knock ed out in the attempt. It is very trying to a senable baby, who is in a hurry to know everything, and can't wait to grow up.

THE LAST PUBLIC SALE OF TOWN LOTS

N West Hickman, Fulton County, Ky., will take place on the second day of October, 1854. In view of the very rapid improvement of Hickman, and the very great solicitude manifested by many that we should still offer inducements to expitalists to cast their lots with us, and invest their cash capital in property, that in less than two years will quadruple itself; we have concluded to make another offer of Lote at Public Auction.

It is needless to say anything of the advantages of Hick-man, as they are known throughout the country to be supeior to those of any pigce on the Mississippi River, between demphis and St. Louis.

It will, in a short time, be the grand terminus of the great chain of Railroads from Charleston and Savaunah to the Mississippi River, the last link of the great chain being the Nashville and North Western road, which terminates at Nashville and North Western road, which terminates at Hickman, and is now in course of construction. Its tributary country is very large, and embraces the most fertile and wealthy portions of West Kentucky and Tennesses. A Marine Railway and Dock Company has been organized with funds enough at command to cusure the completion of that enterprise, fraught with so many advantages to the place. Add to these two improvements—the Railroad and Marina Railway and Dock—the many other minor improvements daily made and Hickman offers inducements to ments daily made, and Rickman offers inducements to capitalists and business men of almost every description,

No. 9 College St., Nashville. THE time having nearly arrived when the Wholesale Dry Goods market in Nashville will be opened we invite the attention of Merchants to our Stock of Winter Goods now ar iving, which will be complete in fifteen days Goods now ar iving, which will be complete in fifteen days. Our bover has devoted near two months in the Eastern markets getting up all the new designs introduced for the Fall Trade, and obtaining the entire line of Fancy and Domestic Goods at the lowest possible figures.

In justification of our declaration that we will make it largely to the interest of merchants to examine our stock before making their purchases elsewhere, we beg to call their attention to our system of business. Cash and a months' time, which not only enables us to operate for small profits, but which makes it indispensable that we should do so to induce their business. This fact, we think, ought to appear obvious to every one.

In our stock we present to the trade every variety of Dry Goods needed. Embracing a heavy line of Black and Fancy Cassimeres, Heavy Kersevs, Linseys, Black and Fancy Cloths, Coat, Bed and Negro Blankets, and Beaver Cloths.

jv6 jyfitf THE GREAT SUMNER FAIR.

THIS grand exhibition will commence on the 26th of September, 1854, and continue for FOUR DAYS, at the GALLATIN, SUMNER COUNTY, TENN. These beautiful grounds have been fitted up at a great expense, under the direction of a committee who have made every arrangement for the comfort and convenience of visiters, and especially the ladies. The number of Stalls and Pens for every kind of stock have been largely increased, now far exceeding those of any other fair grounds in the country. Most of them have already been engaged by persons at a distance, and should the public interest increase, an addition of several hundred more will be required. The Society have also arranged for the completion of one LARGEST PAVILIONS Ever erected in the State; the Canopy, alone, containing over 20,000 feet of canvass, 10,000 feet of cord, with every necessary appendage—the whole weighing over 7,000 lbs. The erection of this pavilion over the beautifully arranged amphitheatre, with elevated seats sufficient for SEVERAL THOUSAND PERSONS.

Will contribute very greatly to the enjoyments of the occasion, affording complete protection from the rays of the sun, and giving the visitor a full view of the circle and All articles or animals intended for exhibition must posi-tively be entered before 10 o'clock of the day of exhibition. The Society's book of entry will be opened from 1st day of September, and persons are respectfully requested to of September, and persons are respectfully requested to make their entries before the days of the Fair.

No animal will be admitted in the ring without being confined, unless by special permission from the Directors.

All the members of subscribers families under twenty-one years of age are admitted free of charge.

The Fair Grands will be special permission. The Fair Grounds will be opened each morning at velock and the proceedings commence at 10. The Association solicits competition for the premiums rom every county in the State.

The officers of all sister societies are respectfully invited.

All the ladies will confer a favor by granting us their OFFICERS.
